Sleeping Bear Heritage Trail

Sleeping Bear Heritage Trail

Inch-for-inch, the 16.5-mile Sleeping Bear Heritage Trail is one of Michigan's most beautiful trails. Built one section at a time over several years, each section of trail has its own unique terrain, scenery and points of interest. The long-range vision is a 27-mile paved bike path that connects the quaint villages and major attractions in Sleeping Bear Dunes National Lakeshore.

The 5.5-mile section from the village of Empire to Dune Climb is very hilly, curvy and absolutely scenic. You'll need a bike with plenty of gears and good brakes. If you like rollercoasters, you'll love this section of trail. The 4.25-mile section from Dune Climb to Forest Haven Drive passes through ancient sand dunes, the historic fishing village of Glen Haven and a pine forest along Alligator Hill. The 6.7-mile section from Fisher Road to Bohemian Road takes you through the Port Oneida Rural Historic District.

You'll find several shops and restaurants in the villages of Empire and Glen Arbor.
